Constitution
of The First Unitarian Society of
Ellsworth, Maine

Constitution

adopted Oct 25 1876

Art. I This Organization shall be called "The First Unitarian Society of Ellsworth."

Art II. The object of this society shall be the united study, practice and promotion of Christianity. It assumes no peculiar rights before the law, and claims control over no property except what shall be gained by itself.

Art III. This Society, desiring to unite formally all those who are practically working with it, recognizes the following persons as its members, so far as they are willing to be so considered, and invites them to cooperate in its work; The original members of this society, as named on page 51 of the Records, the owners and renters of pews, and their wives (or husbands), the signers of the "Church Covenant and Pledge" and ~~any other~~; The members of the "Ladies Social and Benevolent Society" and any other persons, who having been appointed by the Chairman of the Committee on members shall sign this Constitution. But for the sake of a clearer identification and a more distinct sense of the privileges and duties of membership, all members are also urged to sign the Constitution. If any person upon joining the Society shall wish to make open profession of his interest in its purpose and his personal desire to lead a Christian life, by receiving the hand of fellowship or the rite of Baptism, such wish shall be encouraged and gratified by the Pastor.

Art IV. The officers of this Society shall be a President, Vice-President, Clerk, Treasurer and Collector, Historian, and Committees on Pulpit and Services, on Finance, on Benevolent Action, on the Young, on Social Life and on Members.

Art V. Thes officers shall be elected at The Annual Meeting and shall serve one year or until Their places are filled. The committee may fill vacancies in Their numbers until The next Annual Meeting. The Annual Meeting shall be held upon The first Wednesday after The first Sunday in October. The Clerk shall cause public notice to be given at least seven days beforehand. Any other meeting may be called by The President in The same way.

Art VI. The duties of The President, Vice-President and Clerk shall be Those customary to such officers unless otherwise herein specified.

Art VII. The Treasurer and Collector shall collect and hold such moneys as may be subscribed or become due to The Society, subject always to The Committee on Finance. He shall pay no bill without the approval of the Chairman of that Committee, and shall at the Annual Meeting render an account of all money received and expended, which account shall be audited by the said Chairman.

Art VIII. The Historian shall collect and preserve - as far as possible in the form of a connected history, - all such information concerning the Society as may be interesting for future knowledge and shall at every Annual Meeting read the History of the past year.

Art IX. The committee on Pulpit and Services shall consist of five members and shall have charge in general of the religious meetings of the society. It shall care that the pulpit is properly supplied and shall act for the Society in matters relating to the pastorate, such as calls, dismissals, vacations, consultations for advice. It shall see that the Church is properly cleaned, warmed, ventilated, lighted and otherwise put in order for such meetings. It shall take means to provide strangers with temporary seats. It shall appoint two of its members who shall keep themselves informed of the pews or seats to be let or rented and as far as possible see that they are disposed of, and one to take charge of the Music

Art. V. The Committee on Finances shall consist of three persons. It shall determine the method of securing, managing and dispensing the funds of the Society. It shall through its chairman, audit the accounts of the Treasurer and approve all bills.

Art XI. The Committee on Benevolent Action shall consist of three men to be appointed by the society and four women to be added by the Ladies Social and Benevolent Society. It shall have charge of all such business as naturally comes under the head of benevolent action.

Art XII. The committee on the Young shall consist of the Superintendent and Teachers of the Sunday-School. The Superintendent shall be appointed by the Society and shall by consultation with the Pastor appoint the teachers. This committee shall take charge of the religious and moral training of the children and Youth connected with the Society. In particular it shall care for the Sunday-School, appointing its officers, (except the Superintendent) and regulating its sessions and shall take such measures as it shall deem wise to interest those under their care in the worship of the congregation.

Art XIII The Committee on Social Life shall consist of six men appointed by the Society and an equal number of women to be added by the Ladies Social and Benevolent Society. It shall have charge of the social gatherings of the Society, determining their time and making all necessary arrangements.

Art XIV. The Committee on members shall consist of six, its duties shall be to interest in the work and welfare of the Society all desirable persons not already members, to encourage their union with it and to act, through its chairman upon the application of those wishing to join it. To inform the pastor of all such cases, and also of all cases needing his especial attention among the actual members.

Art XV. This constitution may be amended at any meeting by a vote of two thirds of the members present, provided a notice of the proposed amendment has been inserted in the call for a meeting.

The persons named below became members of the Church By signing the following covenant pledge drawn up A.D. 1868 First Sunday of October.

In order better to maintain the worship of Almighty God in this place, to inculcate the divine teaching of the Saviour in the Sermon, to do one another good, and to grow better we hereby combine and associate ourselves together and covenant with one another to form a Church. We solemnly pledge that we will uphold and encourage the ministrations of Religion as long as we live.
