

NEWSLETTER

First Unitarian Society of Ellsworth and Hancock County, Maine

Volume 4 No. 23

January 1972

Rev. Richard B. Gibbs

ALLIANCE

Jan At the home of Corace Beal
5 Program: Lillian Tapley
Chairman: Jean Beal

DISCUSSION GROUP

It's a New Ball Game

Jan
5 John Bromley tries to explain the computer to us. Nice try anyway.
7:30 Place to be announced

19 Leader: Mrs. Conroy

THE MOTHER'S ROLE IN SOCIETY

January 9th at 57 Main Street, by the Sunday Night Discussion Group. 8 p.m.

OUR INGENIOUS PEOPLE

It was a bitter cold night. Stout hearts quailed. You know how quailing hurts! The carol singers despaired until up came the bright idea of singing over the phone.

So, with relieved consciences and warm feet they sang with gusto to as many as they could until they ran out of gas.

NO ADVERTISING

During January and February it was decided
This information is for those who voluntarily have been paying for them these last three months. Gracias.

"SOME OF MY BEST FRIENDS ARE.."

In "other totalistic religions.."

Marxism: for the friends of the masses

Pentecostalism: for Biblicist. Literally

Zen Buddhism: for the high-brow

Third Party Politics: for the activist

Affluent Hedonism, or Professional absorption for the middle class.

(W.G. McLoughlin)

THE THIRST AFTER RIGHTEOUSNESS

Otherwise known as the coffee hour.
(Brunswick via Auburn newsletters)

TIME FOR SOME DECISIONS

The Fund Cabinet and the Building Committee will meet soon to see where we are financially and in general planning.

Then: a PARISH MEETING on Sunday the 23rd of January 1972 at 11 a.m. preceded by a short worship service. Everybody out so we all see where we are and advise and guide the Building Committee.
There are things we should be doing now.

SMILES

The Alliance Sale and Supper did quite well they say. In spite of weather, competition, new location and other things, the ladies are pleased. In other words they made a goodly sum! Great.

WELCOME

To folks who have signed the book lately

Mrs. L. Foster Powers
Mr. and Mrs. John Bromley
Mrs. Dorothy Berry

A belated welcome, twice, thrice

Rev. Ralph Halverson

We learn has gone to Arizona for a few weeks to see if he can shake off some pesky infection. We wish him well and observe it is a hard way to get out of a New England Winter.

FOR DRESSING UP THE COFFEE HOUR

On special occasions the Brunswick folks are looking for items as lace tablecloth sugar tongs. We thought that was nice.
But, they also want pie-servers. Well!
Some coffee hour! Golly, you could slip a sandwich in your pocket and after church just pull up a chair.

OLD WIVES TALES?

Or not we are beginning to wonder about this Open Winter versus Bad Winter.
Last year we had nary a cold. This one uhg. Only thing we can think of last winter we were so busy shovelling snow that the bug couldn't find the right moment.